Two To One Scores Decide Both Games In Sunday's Double Header

Haikus and Wacs Get Long End Of Scores in Best Contested Matches Yet Staged in the All Maui Series—Results Do Not Change Positions of Any of the Contendents But Indicate Future Troubles For the Leaders

League Standing	W	L	Pct.
Haiku	5	0	1.000
Chinese	3	1	.750
Wacs	3	2	.600
Sports	1	1	.500
Asahi	0	5	.000

Haiku 2, Asahi 1; Wacs 2, Sports 1. Not often on any diamond is there served to the fans two such close, well contested, interest rousing, blood stirring, nerve stirring games as those at the Fair Grounds Sunday afternoon. The results have not changed the standing of the teams in the league but have made it evident that the Asahis and the Sports may be looked upon to dash the hopes of some of the leaders in the near future if the character of ball those two teams are putting up shall be improved just a shade further. A meeting between the leader and the tail enders is no longer a foregone conclusion.

In both batting and fielding the Wacs shined the other three teams Sunday afternoon and it was easily the best exhibition of the game that the Cummingsites have displayed this season. The Wacs have certainly "come back."

Haikus Strengthen Lead

Robinson and Sueda were the opposing twirlers in the opener with honors resting with the big veteran. Passes were equal but Foster fanned six and Sueda only three. The Haikus found the Japanese for five hits while Robinson allowed only four. Fielding was rather ragged as shown by seven errors for each team, but the effectiveness of the pitchers prevented more serious damage from being done.

Both sides were held runless in the first though Chartrand walked when hit by Sueda. In the second the Asahis all but scored, would have done so had not Yanagi hesitated an instant too long at third. With two down, Yanagi had singled and he tried to score on Hirai's double but his slowness at third resulted in his being nipped at the plate. For Haiku in the second, Cockett was safe on Yanagi's error, Coleman walked, Hale was safe and Cockett out on a fielders choice and Coleman scored on Rolph's single. Yamamoto fanned Haiku 1, Asahi 0.

In the third Sueda singled but was forced by Nakamura who, in turn was forced by Iku. Tanaka was safe on an error but was also forced. Chartrand was safe on Sueda's error and Souza walked but tight fielding held Haiku scoreless.

In the fourth, Yanagi singled with two down but was left when Hirai fanned. Cockett got on for Haiku but no run came across.

Not until the eighth was there an other run. Then the Asahis tied without making a hit. Nakamura was safe on a wild throw to first by Robinson and stole second. Iku was safe on Souza's error and stole second. Nakamura scored on Rolph's error. Tanaka walked. Iku was out at third. Kikuta was retired Rego hit to Hale. Ishibashi was safe on Yamamoto's error. Matsumoto fanned. Score 1-1.

In the ninth the Big Fellow was going finely. He whiffed Yanagi and Hirai, then let down and walked Sueda and Nakamura was the third out. Then Haiku gobbled the game. Chartrand singled with two down and scored on Nakamura's wild throw of Souza's hit. Haiku 2, Asahi 1.

Wacs Go Strong

Wells Cummings was put onto the slab for the Wacs and went strong all the way with about the best support the Wailuku bunch have accorded a pitcher this year. Caswell went well enough to win an ordinary game and the loss on Sunday was no discredit to him nor the Sports.

Not until the fourth was a hit made off either pitcher. Then Arthur Baldwin, with two down, singled and was safe at second Rego's error but was left when Alfred Rego flew out to Frank Bal. The Wacs got two safe hits to their credit but were held scoreless. Wells Cummings singled and went to third on Bill Cockett's safe one. Cockett stole. Frank Bal fanned and Waiwaiole flew out to L. Cockett.

In the fifth Moniz singled and Smith walked but the Sports were unable to get either of them around. It was out in order for the Wacs. Then came the first run of the game in the sixth.

For the Sports, Sequeira was in the way of one of Cummings' shoots and took first. Ralph Baldwin singled. Sequeira was out at third on L. Cockett's fielder's choice. Arthur Baldwin flew out to left garden. Alfred Rego hit safely and Ralph Baldwin scored. Scholtz ended the rally by striking out. One run. In the remaining three innings the Sports retired in order.

In the seventh the Wacs tied. Bill Cockett walked but was out at second on a fielder's choice from Frank Bal's bat. Waiwaiole singled. Freitas sent a sacrifice fly out to Smith. Bal scored. Waiwaiole was thrown out trying to steal third. Scholtz to Arthur Baldwin. One run and the score was tied. It was one, two, three in the eighth for the Wacs. Then they put across the winning run with two out in the ninth.

Ally Lyons hit safely and went to second on Ralph Baldwin's error. He went to third on Wells Cummings' single. Cockett and Frank Bal were retired and a wild throw over third let the winning run across.

The first game of the doubleheader was forfeited to the Japanese team by the Filipino's who failed to put in an appearance on schedule time.

Tennis

One tourney has reached the final stage, another is in the semi-finals and a third is just starting. The Settlement men's doubles will finish this week, the semi-finals of the All-Maui men's doubles championship are scheduled for Friday and Saturday and the Maui women's doubles championship drawings have been made and are now announced.

Some hard fought sets have been played in the recent matches. In the All-Maui championship, since their former effort was uncompleted with each team having two sets Walsh and Walsh and Engle and Rietow tried again. The former took the first two sets rather easily, 6-1 and 6-2 and then Engle and Rietow were put on their metal and fought desperately but lost the deciding set 13-11.

Walsh and Walsh will meet Tam and Ting on the Puunene courts Friday and Gordon and Gannon will meet Yee and Yee on the same courts Saturday, also at 3.

In the Settlement tournament after losing the first set 6-1 Tam and Ting took the next two from Lindsey and Chang. The second set was won 7-5 and the losers seemed then to have shot their bolt for they lost the deciding set also, six love.

The finals in that tournament will be played Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock between Tam and Ting and Yemoto and Jim.

Only four teams have been entered in the All-Maui women's doubles championships. The drawings have brought together Frances Baldwin and Mrs. Fitzgerald against Mrs. Wadsworth and Miss Simons and Miss Young and Mrs. Kunewa are to meet Mrs. Delbert and Mrs. Hughes. The winners are to play in the finals on or about July 23rd.

New Organization To Handle Football Of Small Institutions

CHICO, Cal., June 23—(Associated Press Mail)—Football honors this year among the teachers colleges and smaller universities of California will be fought for under direction of a new conference which is made up of schools in the northern and southern sections of the state, according to George S. Sperry coach of the State Teachers' College of Chico.

The conference is divided into two divisions, northern and southern, and Chico is playing in the northern division with the College of the Pacific, the San Jose Teachers' College and the Modesto Junior College. In the southern section are the Fresno State Teachers' College, the Santa Barbara Teachers' College, the California Polytechnic of Los Angeles and the Loyola College of Los Angeles.

Games during the season will decide the champions of the two divisions and on Nov. 25, at a place to be determined later, the two title holders will meet to determine the state championship.

The conference also has arranged for complete baseball and basketball schedules for both sections, along the lines of the California Interscholastic Federation, the state organization of the high schools.

Chico's complete schedule, including games inside and outside the conference, follows:

Sept. 30—Sacramento High, here.

Oct. 14—Stanford Freshman, Stanford.

Oct. 21—Modesto Jun. College, Modesto.

Oct. 28—Preston School of Industry at Ione.

Nov. 4—San Jose Teachers Col., San Jose.

Nov. 11—American Legion here.

Nov. 18—College of the Pacific, here.

Nov. 23—Chico high, here.

Auto Race Classic Staged At Tacoma

TACOMA, Wash., June 24—(Associated Press Mail)—Sixteen automobile racing drivers, most of them known on the speedways of two continents, comprise the field for the eleventh annual race, in the national championship circuit, to be held here July 4. The race is under the official sanction of the A. A. A. and will be 250 miles in length. A purse of $25,000 will be contested for and split twelve ways.

Heading the list of entries will be Jimmy Murphy, winner of the Grand Prix at Les Mans, France, last year and winner of the Memorial Day classic at Indianapolis this year. Another widely known entrant is Harry Hartz of San Francisco, second in the Memorial Day race and winner of the Golden Gate motor derby at San Francisco on Easter Sunday. Hartz is making his first appearance on the Tacoma Speedway as a driver.

Other new drivers scheduled for the Tacoma track are Leon Dury, "Howdy" Wilcox, Bennie Hill and Pietro De Paolo.

The other entries, all of whom are well known in Pacific Coast racing circles, are: Cliff Durant, Ralph De Palma, Ralph Mulford, Roscoe Searles, Joe Thomas, Frank Elliott, Jerry Won derlick, Tommy Milton and Art Klein.

The race will be preceded by a military and naval pageant. Soldiers, sailors and marines will participate in a flag raising ceremony in front of the grandstand. The flags of the four foreign entries will be raised above the judges' stand while four bands, en masse, will play the national anthem of each country.

Miss Elsie Janis, noted overseas war entertainer, will be the guest of honor as will Capt. Eddie Rickenbach, American ace.

Barney Oldfield, veteran race driver will act pacemaker for the first lap. Fred Wagner, official starter of the American Automobile Association, will officiate in that capacity.

Ball Players Do Less And Get More Than at Any Time in Game

SAN FRANCISCO, July 1—(Associated Press Mail)—Baseball players today are getting more money than they ever did and are doing less for it, according to Mike Donlin, years ago a Pacific Coast baseball star and later a heavy-hitting member of the New York Giants. Donlin is in the far west this month doing scout duty for the Boston Red Sox. He was in Texas recently.

"In the Texas League I found a majority of the players ill with a strange disease consisting of absolute refusal to run out flies or grounders that look like easy outs," he said. "That kind of baseball is beyond me."

"I saw Texas League players getting as high as $700 a month loafing on balls hit to the infield and running to the bench on high flies. They couldn't do it and get away with it in my time."

"When I was starting, $200 a month was a big salary and believe me, we earned all we got. We ran out all our hits in those days and, not only that, we had to fight every inch of the way, not alone with spirit but with our fists."

Donlin, unlike some other baseball men was not staggered by the big deal in which Willie Kamm, San Francisco, was sold to the Chicago White Sox for $100,000, the greatest price ever paid for a minor leaguer.

Donlin thinks Kamm is a highly developed bit of baseball mechanism.

"The surprising feature to me was that he was not sold two years ago," Donlin said. "The first time I saw him he looked like a big league player and I've often wondered what kept him in the minors."
